The Press Excursion.

Our last letter announced the departure of the scribes of the west from Detroit, and en route for Buffalo. This city received but a short visit and most of the time was taken up in viewing the site and preparations for the Pan-American Exposition of 1901. This Exposition will run from May 1 to Nov. 1 and is intended to celebrate the achievements of civilization during 100 years of development of the greatest exhibitions ever held on the American continent. Nearly six million dollars have been appropriated and the site comprises 350 acres beautifully laid out in park lands and lakelets.

After breakfast the party were taken in hand by the Pan-American representatives. Political partisanship apparently did not run to extremes here as Mayor Diehl was able to appear in person and shaking hands with the visitors welcomed them to the city. The citizens may well be proud of their city as it is a beautiful one, well laid out, containing 400,000 inhabitants and 225 miles of asphalt pavement.

A ride on the electric cars to the grounds and after luncheon to Niagara Falls was much enjoyed as the excursionists were enabled to see some handsome business and private buildings and view most magnificent scenery. During our visit President Wilson and others took occasion to thank those who so hospitably furnished our entertainment. At Niagara Falls the Cataract Hotel was made our headquarters. At this point a reception was given by the Mayor and other prominent officials and a drive around the falls on both sides was provided. Many of our party had never seen this mass of water falling with deafening roar 160 feet into the foaming bed below and were not only delighted but awed by the magnificent grandeur of the scene—and it takes a great deal to inspire a western editor with awe.

The trip to Toronto was a pleasant break in the monotony of railway travel, our party leaving Lewiston on Tuesday, June 5th, at 3 p.m. and arriving in Toronto at 5.30 the same evening.

A full programme had been arranged by the Canadian Press Association, Toronto Type Foundry, Miller & Richard and other representatives. A ride around the city and to the pleasant summer resort of the Toronto Railway Company, Munroe Park, occupied the evening after dinner had been partaken of at the Rossin House.

On Wednesday a joyous party of entertainers and entertained were driven on tall-ho coaches to the parks, public buildings and other points of interest throughout the city, and a most cordial welcome was extended to the guests by Mayor Macdonald, who, by the way, is making a name for himself by his advocacy of radical reforms and improvements in civic affairs.

In the evening an informal reception was given at the Royal Canadian Yacht Club on the Island,
Toronto's famous summer resort.
To Mr. Johnston of the Toronto Type Foundry Co. the thanks of the visitors are due for this enjoyable entertainment. Toasts and speeches were made and hearty good-will was expressed by both hosts and guests. The delightful time spent in the Queen City will ever be remembered by the western excursionists.

Eastern Assiniboia Conser- vative Convention.

The annual meeting of the Conservative association of Eastern Assiniboia was held on June 15th, in Indian Head. It was the largest and most enthusiastic assembly of Conservatives ever held in the Northwest Territories.

J. W. Connell tendered his resignation as candidate and a convention for the purpose of putting a candidate in the field was called to be held at Grenfell on Tuesday, July 17th.

The following resolutions were passed with much enthusiasm:

"That whereas J. W. Connell, the nominee of the Liberal Conservative party as their candidate for the representation of Eastern Assiniboia in the parliament of Canada at the forthcoming election has tendered his resignation as such a candidate; and whereas Mr.
Connell has satisfied the Liberal Conservatives of Eastern Assiniboia in convention assembled that he is unable to contest the constituency without making such great personal sacrifice as could not be justified in being made by him nor in being accepted by us; therefore it is resolved that Mr. Connell's resignation of his candidature be accepted by us and that the convention records its regrets at losing him as their standard-bearer, as well as their conviction that his ability and popularity throughout the riding, together with the righteousness and justness of the cause he was to support must have proclaimed him the member-elect for Eastern Assiniboia had he remained in the field."

"That the Liberal Conservative party of Eastern Assiniboia at this their annual convention declare their confidence in Sir Charles Tupper as leader of the party and their fixed allegiance to the principles of the party as enunciated by him. They further express it as their conviction that the policy which has made Canada a nation
among the nations of the world, and which has so greatly conduced to her wealth and prosperity can be best carried out by the Liberal Conservative party; who alone have given evidence to the people of Canada that they appreciated the greatness of the possibilities of their country."

"That the Central Conservative Association of Eastern Assiniboia desires to express its approval of the course pursued by Hon. Hugh John Macdonald as leader of the Conservative party in and premier of the province of Manitoba, the straightforward manner in which Mr. Macdonald appealed to the electors of Manitoba, and the energy with which his administration's carried out. Every pledge made to the people is an example of the honesty of the purpose of the Conservatives in provincial as well as Dominion affairs and is in striking contrast with the manner in which the Liberal party fail to carry out their pledges."

"That the Liberal Conservatives of Eastern Assiniboia in convention assembled and being representative of every portion of the constituency desire to express their approval of the work being done by the leaders of our party in parliament, especially do they appreciate the broad and liberal statesmanship and thorough devotion to the interests of the Northwest as evidenced by Mr.
Nicholas Flood Davin, member for the neighboring constituency of Western Assiniboia and they earnestly hope that his eminent abilities may long be at the disposal of his country and party."

The following officers were elected:

President—Dr. Creamer, of Qu'- Appelle.

First vice-president—Dr. Ellis, of Fleming.

Second vice-president—W. D.
Dunlop, Yorkton.

Secretary-treasurer—A. D. Dickson, of Qu'Appelle.

hazy.

FATEFUL ABDUCTION.

BY MAY AGNES FLEMING.

Author of "A Wonderful Woman," "Sharing Her Crime," "Maude Percy's Secret," etc., etc.

He paced the floor wildly in his bitter sorrow.

"Shall we not go to her?" said Kate, as her tears fell fast. "Will you not tell her with your own lips she is forgiven?"

"Yes, yes," she said, "I will go to her, but let me go, my poor, poor wife!"

He turned on Kate's arm, for excessive emotion had made him weak as an infant. They reached the outer room and approached the bed of death. The child Madeline stood at the foot, gazing with her great, mournful black eyes on the face of her dead father.

And kneeling by the bedside, her head resting on the cold bosom of the dead, her long black hair streaming wildly over the pillow and over his bosom, lay my lady. She did not look up as they approached. As immovable as a marble statue she knelt.

"Dear Aunt Madeline!" said Kate, taking her cold hand.

She moved not—spoke not. Kate raised her head; all was cold and still. She looked down in the white face—the beautiful features were fixed and rigid; the mournful dark eyes were closed forever. My lady was dead.

And there, on the bosom of him she loved, her spirit had departed. They had come together—those two so strangely separated in life, so strangely united in death!

CHAPTER XXV. REUNION.

"My lord," said Kate, gently and sadly, "she is dead."

He stared like one bewildered, but spoke not.

"She needs not your forgiveness now, all her earthly troubles are over. She is at rest," said Kate, earnestly taking his hand.

"Dead! Madeline, Walter—all dead?" He looked bewildered.

"Not all, dear uncle, there are many still alive to love you. And this child, this child, will you not love her for the sake of the dead? Come here, Madeline," said Kate, turning toward her.

She came quietly forward and stood beside them.

Kate turned back her long, black ringlets, and her eyes met as she met the large, sad, bewitching, dark eyes, so like, so like those whose light was quenched forever in the darkness of death.

"O my child, poor little one," she said, kissing fondly the fair brow. "Oh, my child, how much she is like those who have gone!"

He looked down in the sweet, childish face, and strong man as he was, his head fell on his shoulder, and he wept.

"Don't cry, I love you," said Madeline, suddenly throwing her arms around his neck, with the infant impulse of childhood to comfort all who weep.

The outburst of grief relieved his surcharged heart. He was able to look up and into Kate's face as she proposed that the lifeless form should be conveyed to Dr. Hume and privately interred in the family vault there.

He silently assented. The carriage which had brought them was still in waiting, and before noon the lifeless forms lay side by side in a darkened, white draped room at Dr. Hume's. Old Moll and little Madeline were there, too. The faithful negro refused to leave the chamber where lay all that was mortal of her kind master. She crouched in a shadowy corner, her arms, clasping her knees, as she rocked, too and fro, still chanting to herself her dreary dirge. She and Madeline sat by herself, watching wistfully the many figures that glided past her, silent and noiseless, like ghosts.

We pass over the astonishment and grief of the household at hearing of the death of their fair young lady. Marie Nelson fell into hysterics at the news, and kept every one in the house generally in a state of confusion.

Pale and still at the head of the bed of death, sat the child, gazing steadily and mournfully into the faces of the dead. They were such a contrast, those two little forms before him, bound together in life and death so strangely. He, so full, so rich looking, she, so dark, yet so beautiful, with the look of fixed sorrow she had ever worn in life yet resting on her face. He sat and gazed, and gazed, as though there were nothing in the whole world besides. And to him, what was left?

Kate had written to Lord Arundel immediately upon their arrival, detailing with brief yet simple pathos the whole sad story from beginning to end.

Before night he arrived, and the two brothers who had once loved each other so well were beneath the same roof once more. How different how widely different had been their paths through life! Tears which did honor to his manly heart, fell from the man's eyes as he gazed.

Night again had settled down on the time. In the chamber of death were assembled the earl, Lord Arundel, Kate, Madeline and Old Moll; when suddenly the door was thrown open, and Mother Wail, the Witch of the Moor, stood again before them. A slight, grizzled figure stood behind her. She advanced, all spring to her feet, their hearts beating wild; yet her cloak fell off, and, merging forward, resting her almost senseless, Alice Arundel lay on the bosom of Lord Arundel.

"Said I not I would come again?" said the old woman, quietly.

"Alice! Alice! can this be real?" exclaimed Kate, like one bewildered, who Lord Arundel could only fold her still power in his arms, as though doubting the evidence of his senses.

"Dear Harry," said Alice, raising her soft eyes to his face. "Your father—I must speak to him."

He opened his arms silently. She gazed forward, and stood beside the earl, who sat white and motionless beside the dead form of his wife.

"My lord," said Alice, gently, "I forgive you for the past. Shall we not be friends in future? In the presence of the dead all must be forgotten and forgiven."

"Forgive me," he groaned, "and after all I made you suffer? Ah, Alice, you are indeed accused!"

"But what does all this mean?" demanded Lord Arundel, impatiently.

"How came you with this woman, Alice? How came you to leave the old Moor Manor?"

"She did not leave it," broke in Mother Wail, clutching her head. "You see, my lord," she added, turning to the earl, "I watched you that morning, and saw you taking off those two servants' heads and gazing in the carriage. I suspected something wrong, and I went to remove Miss Madeline. Accordingly, after you had left, I entered and found her lying senseless on the floor. I raised her in my arms, for she is light as an infant, and I am still strong, and carried her to my hut. I judged when you missed her search would be made, and I accordingly took measures to prevent you from finding her. Taking a hut from the old Moor Manor, I had when my cottage was constructed, an underground chamber, constructed, and when you visited me, I hid Miss Madeline there. That is all. I have been here ever since. I have told her all that has transpired, and you see she is still willing to forgive you. And now farewell. Before daybreak I shall be far on my way toward La Rochelle."

She turned and quitted the apartment. There was a moment's profound silence, and then Kate said:

"But all this time I have not learned why you carried Alice off, uncle. She went with you voluntarily, yet against her will. It seems strange."

"It is easily explained," said the earl, "and with the rest of my evil deeds, she has explained. In the first place I loved her father a grudge this many a year, and being evil by nature, I resolved to get rid of her. Secondly, Alice was possessed by a wicked witch, and I wished Arundel to marry Lord Netterville's daughter, whose fortune was immense, and whose broad lands would then be joined to those of Danmarke. Thirdly, and other considerations, made me wish to get her out of the way. I thought if Arundel thought Alice lost to him, he would be more readily taken into my plans. But how to do this was a puzzle, for I wished Alice to go voluntarily, and this prevented suspicion from falling on me. In order to bring about this end, I forged a story to frighten her—I told her father was deeply in debt—that I held a mortgage on all his possessions, and had it in my power to ruin him at any moment. I also told her of a crime which I had been accused of in early life, both of which had been proven innocent. I told her I had obtained proof since, which must condemn him, and that I should certainly proclaim it, unless he consented to come with me. She did not doubt me for a moment—she believed all I said, and not knowing the object I had in view, she consented to accompany me. I had hesitated some what about telling her the other crimes are common, but she is—she is—is something a gentleman must stain his lips with. And I did know how she would be tempted. I intended to bring her to Stanton, and secret her there until Arundel should be married, and then making her promise secrecy as to what had passed, under pain of having her father ruined, she consented to come with me. Now I dreamed something the other night that disturbed me. I will admit I am slightly superstitious, until I found the instigation or suggestion in a waking reality."

"I was very tired and slept in a room at a hotel in which I had never slept before. I am certain that I saw no feature of the room with any conscious knowledge, for I was tired and sleepy, and soon was safe in the land of dreams."

"Safe, did I say? It is not always possible to be safe, even in our dreams. I had a vivid vision of a great ocean and myself standing alone amid its billows. In my dream the place where I stood was surrounded by billows, and I knew they were of ocean depth and wondered how I had such a safe footing. I even reasoned that it could be only temporary, and the tides would soon come and sweep me away."

"Then I saw a fellow I knew, a Toronto boy, though I knew I was on the Atlantic ocean. He called to me to know what I was doing there, and I said, 'waiting for you to rescue me,' raising my voice to a pitch necessary to be heard on shore."

"I was awakened by a rapping on the wall and a request from a disagreeable traveler to make less noise."

"I continued awake, wondering what the dream meant, and recalling the law of the dream-land that if the water is clear, it means good fortune, and with that I arose and there on the wall, partially concealed by the bed, was the picture of a man battling with the billows and exactly as I was placed in my dream."

"I could have sworn that I had not seen the picture, and the question arises, was my dream inspired by the picture which hung there at my head, or was it merely a coincidence? I would give something to know."

THE BOSTON LYRIC OPERA CO.

The Attraction at the Winnipeg Theatre for Each Night Week.

Manager C. P. Walker, of the Winnipeg Theatre announces that he has secured the Famous Boston Lyric Opera Co., who will perform over half a hundred people. This will be most welcome news for intending visitors to the big fair at Winnipeg this summer.

The more announcement that those two great comedians, George Kunkel and John Henderson, are with the famous Boston Lyric Opera company, is enough to suggest a great laughing season at the Winnipeg Theatre with the commencement of the engagement of this famous operatic organization exhibition week.

Jack Henderson.

These two comedians have a wide reputation for humor, rich and fast, and a degree of cleverness that goes clearly into the superlative mood. They work together in harmony, being the closest kind of friends in private life. There is no jealousy or bickering between them, so often displayed in other organizations where two funny men are cast. They are both singers of no mean order and have created no end of comedy parts in the operatic world.

George Kunkel.

Mr. Kunkel is a student of the closest order, and an inventor with a reputation that ranks with the records of the greatest in the country.

Two much praise cannot be accorded Col. Thompson, manager of the Boston Lyric, for offering two such great cards in the coming engagement of his splendid company at the Winnipeg Theatre.

He Would Like to Know.

"It is curious," said the man in the smoker who was relating experiences, "how associations may be formed in the mind without being conscious of them. Now I dreamed something the other night that disturbed me. I will admit I am slightly superstitious, until I found the instigation or suggestion in a waking reality."

"I was very tired and slept in a room at a hotel in which I had never slept before. I am certain that I saw no feature of the room with any conscious knowledge, for I was tired and sleepy, and soon was safe in the land of dreams."

"Safe, did I say? It is not always possible to be safe, even in our dreams. I had a vivid vision of a great ocean and myself standing alone amid its billows. In my dream the place where I stood was surrounded by billows, and I knew they were of ocean depth and wondered how I had such a safe footing. I even reasoned that it could be only temporary, and the tides would soon come and sweep me away."

"Then I saw a fellow I knew, a Toronto boy, though I knew I was on the Atlantic ocean. He called to me to know what I was doing there, and I said, 'waiting for you to rescue me,' raising my voice to a pitch necessary to be heard on shore."

"I was awakened by a rapping on the wall and a request from a disagreeable traveler to make less noise."

"I continued awake, wondering what the dream meant, and recalling the law of the dream-land that if the water is clear, it means good fortune, and with that I arose and there on the wall, partially concealed by the bed, was the picture of a man battling with the billows and exactly as I was placed in my dream."

"I could have sworn that I had not seen the picture, and the question arises, was my dream inspired by the picture which hung there at my head, or was it merely a coincidence? I would give something to know."

TO BE BEAUTIFUL.

YOU CAN'T GET THIS RECIPE AT THE NEAREST DRUG STORE.

Cosmetics are All Right in Their Place, and So Are Clothes, but the Main Things are Health, a Gentle Disposition and Freedom From Worry.

"Six ounces of oil, three ounces of rose-water, a teaspoonful of borax," and so on and so on, read the girl with her brows puckered up in a frown. The writer of the recipe for "a beautiful complexion" suggested that this prescription might be compounded at "the nearest drug store," as it was "very simple."

Now, I do believe in rubbing wrinkles out whenever one can, for there are a lot of little lines that take care will keep away from the corners of one's eyes, but "an ounce of prevention" has always been and always will be "worth a pound cure." It is better, and really a pleasurable task, to keep the lines away from one's face than to chase them away, or to spend vain hours in trying to get rid of them after they have come and settled themselves.

But beauty does not depend alone upon the absence of wrinkles. It depends upon the pleasant voice, the attentive and sympathetic and understanding glance of the eye.

Beauty of face and form is indeed a blessing to either man or woman, but Dame Nature is rather economical in her bestowal of such delightful gifts, and is left to the most of us poor mortals to do our best to make up to the world in general for her neglect of us by turning "beauty culturists" not so much in the art of skillfully applying cosmetics, but in the wider sense—the sense that embraces, thoughtfulness and honesty of purpose and good health and contentment.

"Be good and you will be beautiful" is rather a tiresome bit of philosophy, I know, and you will be loved, and can beauty win anything better than love? I would rather say to the "ugly duckling," "Be good, live up to the very best that is in you, and you will be loved." And can beauty win anything better than love?

Health and beauty are very close companions. The first part of my recipe would run like this: "Try very, very hard to be healthy." Fresh air, sufficient sleep, wholesome food and enough of it, pure water and a contented disposition will do more for the person of naturally delicate constitution than mixtures of drugs that even the wisest doctor could think of. I have the word of your family physician for the truth of this that I have written.

When womenfolk are left alone at home, there is a vacation in the kitchen. The cook may go out and spend the day if she wishes. "Dinner and tea and an egg" may be the bill of fare for dinner. If the one who has dined thus awakens next morning with a headache, she wonders why, and, as it is a "perfect bother to eat breakfast today," breakfast is left unmade. As the day wears on there is a "tired look" about her eyes, and she resorts to massage because she must "look fresh" for the musical in the evening. But the massage fails to do the work in this case.

Of course, the most of us are willing to forgive beauty many things. For a time at least we do not mind if the truly beautiful woman is a bit selfish and self-willed. It is born in the heart of man and woman to pay tribute to beauty. But only for a time, I say, are we willing to sacrifice for beauty's sake alone. Yes, I have quite come to the conclusion beauty needs something more than a smooth brow, bright eyes, a perfect little mouth and nose to sustain it and make it "a joy forever."

George Sand has put into words this, which many of us have also come to know is true. "The beauty that addresses itself to the eyes is only the spell of the moment; the eye of the body is not always that of the soul."

Physical beauty is greatly dependent upon common sense. Common sense will not change a feature, to be sure, or make one's stature taller or shorter, but it will, if applied to exercise and daily habits, bring about round and pink cheeks, an easy and graceful carriage and a general improvement in one's appearance. Common sense will do this.

IS IT THE KIDNEYS THAT ARE DERANGED?

If so uric acid poison is in your system and your sufferings will be great until you get the kidneys right. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills make the kidneys healthy and cure all uric acid troubles.

The most painful, the most fatal and consequently the most dreaded diseases of the human body are caused by the presence of uric acid in the blood.

Uric acid is the name given to the foul, poisonous impurities which are left in the blood when the kidneys are deranged and unable to perform their duty of filtering the blood.

So long as the kidneys are in perfect health the uric acid is passed out of the body by way of the bladder and the blood is kept pure and clean.

When there are severe body pains, headache, backache or weakness in the back; when the skin becomes yellow, dry and hard, when the urine contains deposits, is thick, or irregular; when there is stomach trouble and pains about the heart; when you feel weak, dizzy and become languid and despondent, you can put the cause down to uric acid in the blood resulting from deranged kidneys.

The nature of your ailment will be decided by your constitution. The poison left in the blood will find lodgment in the weakest part and set up some dreadful disease. It may be Bright's disease, diabetes or dropsy. It may be the twanging pains of rheumatism. It may be chronic stomach troubles or bladder ailments. Whatever the form of disease this poisoned blood mon sense brought to bear will make one's troubles less burdensome, if it does not drive them away entirely. Somebody has said that "life is never as good as we hope, but never as bad as we fear." It is true that when you are greatly worried, and if the thought does not afford a certain amount of comfort then you haven't a grain of philosophy in your make-up, which is a sorry thing for you and your friends.

Worry is a great foe to beauty—not the sensible and reasonable reasoning of things and careful planning about ways and means, but the grieving over what cannot be helped and the foolish fearing of what may happen. If you think the "don't worry" advice is foolish, put it to the test. I am quite certain you will be surprised when you find how well it works in many cases.

If you would be beautiful—the second ingredient of my recipe—be not envious or spiteful. All the wealth and talent in the world will fail to gain you that place in the hearts of your friends or secure for you the share of admiration that must be yours if your wealth and talents were only coupled with kindly traits. In a woman a gentle disposition counts for so very, very much. It really helps to beauty.

Clothes, which is a matter of fact, cannot be overlooked, or should not be overlooked, by the seeker after beauty. It is well for a woman to wear a gown cut in a becoming fashion and of a becoming color. It is also to be well groomed.

The third part of my beauty recipe, therefore, calls for a good amount of "grooming." The prettiest woman imaginable cannot be attractive with a dowdy, boddy, hair that is not brushed and a complexion that shows neglect only too plainly.

Then to be beautiful I would suggest the cultivation of a kindly disposition, a determination not to worry over anything that cannot be cured by worry and a liberal application of soap and water and frequent doses of fresh air and exercise. Cosmetics? Oh, yes, cosmetics are good in their place, but their place comes after and not before my recipe—Margaret Haines in St. Louis Republic.

For a cold on the chest there is no better specific for most persons than well boiled or roasted onions both for a cough and for the clogging of the bronchial tubes, which is usually the cause of the cough. If eaten freely at the onset of a cold, they will break up even a serious attack.

As Customary.

"At this juncture," said the honorable member from Thunderhead county, opening a pamphlet that lay upon his desk, "let me quote from my distinguished friend, the Hon. John Louis Webster, who said a few months ago in speaking upon this question these memorable words—"

"Here he read two or three pages from the pamphlet.

"And this brings me," he proceeded, "to the consideration of the main point at issue."

"Yes," shouted an unfriendly hearer, "That shows the force of habit. You couldn't travel, even to the consideration of your main point, except as a dead-beat."—Chicago Tribune.

She Walked With Wordsworth.

There has just died at Leeds Mrs. Richard Reynolds, who distinguished herself as a student of natural science, and who numbered among her former acquaintances some of the great men of the present century. She knew Wordsworth, and used often to walk with him in the garden attached to his Lakeland home. She was also acquainted with Coleridge, Livingstone, John Bright and other men of our time. Her knowledge of old quaker families was very extensive and only within the past month she was asked to write an account of the Friends in Westmorland.

Curiosity Satisfied.

Burly Trump—What's the good of a little dog like that?

Mrs. Rural—To keep off traps.

His, he! Not kin that little critter do?"

"He can bark; that will wake up the big dogs under the porch."

Of an' mum! Good day, mum!"—New York Weekly.

Too Farscoring.

"How did you know, Harry, dear, that I would say yes when you asked me?"

"Because, my sweet, I am the seventh son of a seventh son. The future holds no secrets from me."

"Indeed! Then you know, of course, that I have no intention of ever marrying you?"—Chicago Tribune.

PRETORIA'S FALL.

CANADIANS WERE INCLUDED IN THE TRIUMPHAL MARCH.

Victory of Kitchener and Methuen at Kimberley Secures British Communications.

Montreal, June 14.—The following is a special cable from R. Edmund Smith, the correspondent of the Star with the first Canadian contingent: Pretoria, June 5.—By courier to Kronstadt, June 14.—I was present when Gen. Roberts' troops made the triumphal entry into Pretoria on Tuesday, June 5. It fell to the lot of the Canadian regiment to be included in the march past the field marshal and his staff, who were stationed in the square in front of the parliament buildings in Pretoria. In the operations leading up to the capture of Pretoria, Gen. Hutton with the mounted Canadians marched on the extreme left of the British forces from Johannesburg to Pretoria. When the British forces came in touch with the Boers before the city and from the forts of Pretoria, on Monday Gen. Hamilton's advance was being made over the hills of the city. As he advanced the Gordons' and Cornwallis' held these hills under heavy rifle fire. The duty assigned to the Canadians now was to guard the baggage left on these hills by the troops above named.

The preparations were at once made for the entry of the army on the following day, when at 2 o'clock Lord Roberts took up his position in front of parliament buildings and reviewed the British troops as they proudly marched past.

London, June 14.—The dispatch from Lord Roberts clearing up the situation at Pretoria and along the communications at once alone. Military observers, noting that no mention is made of prisoners, assume that Gen. De Wet got away with his forces practically intact. Gen. Buller entered Volksrust on Wednesday, passed through Charlestown and encamped near Laing's Nek.

Three hundred Free State, released from guarding Vanrenens Pass, have gone to join President Steyn's force in the eastern part of the Orange River colony. Gen. Buller has sent notice to the Free State that unless they surrender by June 15, their farms and other possessions will be confiscated.

Gen. Buller's casualties on June 10 have been issued by the war office. They were 26 killed, 120 wounded and 2 missing.

THE FORCE INADEQUATE.

Another Reverse to British Column Under Col. Carter and Major Wilkinson.

Accra, Gold Coast, June 14.—Details have been received here of another reverse to the relief column under Col. Carter and Major Wilkinson, a day's march north from Prah. The latest rumors represent a further disaster to a detachment on the north bank of the Prah, which is now flooded and where the Ashantis were found strongly entrenched. Col. Wilcock's advance has been delayed by the rains, which have destroyed the bridge on the Prah road. The continued absence of news from Kamassee tends to confirm the pessimistic views as to the safety of the governor and his staff. The coast towns are apprehensive of their own safety. The British gunboat Magpie, stationed at Accra, is the sole protection for the coast.

Owing to the difficulty encountered in procuring carriers, the enforcement of a labor ordinance is threatened, but the step is considered unadvisable in view of the present temper of the inhabitants and the unprotected condition of the colony. The general opinion is that the present force is inadequate to cope with the situation and the local government apparently fails to recognize its gravity.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE.

Grand Master Leslie's Address a Feature of the Opening Session.

Winnipeg, June 14.—The 25th annual communication of the grand lodge of Manitoba began last evening, when M. W. Bro. John Leslie, grand master, delivered his address, in which reference was made to the war in South Africa and the part Canada is taking in connection with it.

It was also a source of gratification to remember that brethren are under the command of such distinguished Masons as Lord Roberts, Past G. S. W. of the grand lodge of Ireland, and Lord Kitchener, of Khartoum, D.D.G.M. of the Sudan.

RUSSIAN INTERESTS.

New York, June 14.—Concerning the visit to this city of M. Rothstein, general manager of the Imperial Bank of Russia, the Evening Post says: M. Rothstein may decide to establish a Russian bank in this country through which Russian disbursements could be effected. These disbursements it is said aggregate nearly $10,000,000 a year and with probably further developments of Russian interests in this country it may be advisable for the government to have a bank of its own.

DOMINION HOUSE.

Ottawa, June 14.—The member for Jacques Cartier, Mr. J. Monk, gave notice today in the House of a motion which he intends to move in regard to the emergency food supplied to the soldiers in South Africa by Dr. Devlin. Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointed out that the question was not one of privilege. He told the member for Jacques Cartier that if he charged fraud he would give him a committee to investigate it. There was no charge of fraud in the resolution. The matter was allowed to stand over.

Lieut.-Col. Prior asked if the government had sent any instructions to the lieutenant-governor of British Columbia. Sir Wilfrid Laurier—I may inform my hon. friend that I have not sent any instructions to the lieutenant-governor. The lieutenant-governor has applied to the people of the province and the answer is in their hands.

Mr. Clarke Wallace reminded the premier of his previous statement in the house and therefore wanted to know whether Mr. McInnes was to be recalled or what was to be done in the matter considering the decisive majority there was against him.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier.—The question is not one that is to be treated with levity. The elections only took place on Saturday last and the exact result is not yet known. The government will not take any action on newspaper reports. We must have something official before us.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will introduce a bill in the house tomorrow in regard to the restriction of Chinese immigration. It is probable that the poll tax will be increased from $50 to $100.

CUSTOMS REGULATIONS.

The Law to Be Enforced With Regard to the Importation of Foreign Goods.

Toronto, June 14.—An important regulation governing shipping from Europe by the St. Lawrence route has been issued by the customs department. The Customs Act provides the value for duty shall be a fair market value of the goods when sold for home consumption in the principal market of the country when imported direct into Canada. This word "direct" has been somewhat loosely interpreted in the past in the case of British and continental goods imported through United States ports. It is the intention of the customs department now to apply the law regulating direct importations more strictly, and to require evidence of the goods brought from Europe to Canada via United States, being a direct importation. It is expected that the new regulation will promote trade via the St. Lawrence as there can be no question of the importations by ocean steamers to a Canadian port being direct.

Hereafter European goods, coming into Canada through the United States, will be valued for duty as though imported from the United States, and the duty will be levied on the open market value in that country, unless the bill of lading clearly shows goods to have been consigned from Europe to the importer at a particular port in Canada.

OVER LAING'S NEK

BULLER REPORTS LAING'S NEK AND MAJUBA CLEARED.

Communication Restored—Don Paul Claims 20,000 Boers Are Under Arms at Marchadorp.

London, June 13.—The war office has issued the following dispatch from Gen. Buller to the secretary of war: Joubert's Farm, June 12.—Encamped four miles east of Volksrust. Laing's Nek and Majuba were completely evacuated by the Boers last night. Gen. Buller from Ingogo, is coming over the Nek. I have had to camp here for want of water. A correct list of yesterday's casualties will be sent as soon as received.

London, June 13.—Two pieces of news encouraging to the British in the official dispatches are that the broken communications of Lord Roberts are in a fair way to be mended by the forces moving northwards and southwards and driving off the commands; and that Sir Redvers Buller is at last master of Laing's Nek. Telegraphic communication with Lord Roberts is expected to be restored today as a dispatch from Bloemfontein yesterday says that the railway is in British possession again and that the work of repairing the line is going on rapidly with the abundant material in the warehouses at Bloemfontein.

According to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Marchadorp, dated June 10, via Lorenzo Marques, those Lord Roberts' Delgely have been offered indirectly £10,000 a year to lay down their arms and President Kruger expects the same offer to be made to himself, President Steyn and De Wet.

ADVANCING ON PEKIN.

British Marines Defeat 2,000 Boxers—Outrages Continue.

London, June 13.—Sixteen British marines reconquering in advance of the international column marching to Pekin, fought and chased 2,000 Boxers on Monday, killing 30 or 35. A correspondent accompanying the column, in a dispatch dated Tien Tsin, June 12, via Shanghai, June 13, 6.15 a.m., says: "While the working parties accompanied by a patrol of 16 British marines, commanded by Major Johnson, were repairing the line on Monday afternoon, they encountered small parties of Boxers who were destroying the advanced marines and drove away from the country, leaving the rails moved and the sleepers burning."

"The marines, when two miles in advance of the first train near Lang Fang, suddenly perceived Boxers coming from a village on their left. It was estimated they numbered 2,000, some of them being mounted; and they were trying to get between the marines and the train."

"Most of them were armed with spears and swords. A few had firearms, which they handled awkwardly."

The marines retreated, keeping up a running fight for over a mile and killing between 20 and 30."

"The Boxers pursued the British for some distance. Then seeing more marines from the train coming to their assistance, Major Johnson's 16 halted, and poured a heavy, continuous fire into the crowd, driving them across the front of the retreating bluejackets, who punished the Boxers severely with Maxims."

"The Boxers fled, and the Europeans, following up their success, cleared out two villages."

"The expedition numbers 2,044, made up as follows: British, 915; German, 250; Russian, 300; French, 128; American, 104; Japanese, 62; Italian, 40; and Austrian, 25."

The Times published yesterday that the chancellor of the Japanese legation, Sugiyama Akira, while proceeding alone and unprotected on official duty, was brutally murdered by soldiers of Tung Fuh Siang, the favor of bodyguard of the emperor at Manigate railroad station yesterday."

The residence of the British minister in Pekin, Sir Claude Macdonald has been burned.

Ottawa Normal College Students.

This is the twenty-fifth year of existence for the Ottawa Normal school and in recognition of that the honored head of the institution, Dr. MacCabe, proposes to have a re-union of as many of his 5,000 ex-students as can be brought together on September 14, the anniversary of the first opening. In response to Dr. MacCabe's request a meeting of the ex-students has been held in Winnipeg and arrangements have been made for securing as many names of ex-students as possible. Knowing that there are many of these scattered through Manitoba and the Territories it is requested that all would send, in their names to A. E. Hayes, secretary, Tribune office, so that all may appear on the list of western ex-students. When sending please state the year in which you attended and your occupation since that time. It is hoped that the west may be well represented at this celebration.

CONNELL'S RESIGNATION.

Mr. J. W. Connell's withdrawal from the lists in the East Assinibola Dominion election contest and his reasons advanced therefore will give rise to much discussion among Liberals and also among Conservatives who have not been behind the scenes.

Mr. Connell received the nomination last fall from the Conservative convention at Moosomin. Immediately the Liberal press began a crusade against him and demanded to know his position on the elevator question since he was the organizer of the North-West Elevator Association, which the said press claimed was a combine. This spring Mr. Connell held a public meeting here and explained the working of the Association and his relation thereto, causing us to form a more favorable opinion of the candidate and his position. Many good Conservative farmers still had their doubts as to his sincerity in supporting their interests and it is probably due to this lack of unanimity that Mr. Connell has felt called upon to resign. His reasons are somewhat flimsy on the face of them as business interests and the necessity of time and funds were no doubt as fully realized last fall as now.

The grain bill being put through the federal house will, it is claimed, kill all agitation on that score and should strengthen rather than weaken his candidacy as it will remove one cause of complaint.

A strong Conservative candidate should make a good running in this constituency and we await the announcement of the choice of Mr. Connell's successor with considerable interest.

Edgeley Echoes.

From our own correspondent.

The following is the copy of a letter written by Ed. Anderson, our representative in Strathcona's House, written from Cape Town. We hope it may prove interesting to Ed's many friends:

Cape Town, April 29, 1900

DEAR FRIENDS:

I am tenting to-night on the old soap ground. I am still living and enjoying good health.

We intend to leave for the free sea May 2nd, all being well, and I may be in a good many battles before this reaches you. There are about two thousand going so we will make quite a large army. I am glad we are going to the front for I am getting tired of camp life. There is nothing to see here. We are not allowed down town unless on pass and that pass is hard to get. We had one half-holiday since came, and I went down town. It is a very pretty place. I was going up on Table Mountain today but I am on guard for twenty-four hours and can not. I was sent down after dinner to guard the Boer prisoners and I have to keep on the move all the time.

We are having mounted drill now. I was on one yesterday. It was fun to see the horses all bucking at once. We were getting fired in all directions. One horse ran in on me and I went over horse and all, and two horses fell on me. I got hurt a little but not very badly. I got up and started off for the camp, then turned and started for the town. It was about ten minutes before I knew what had happened. Then I got my horse and mounted again. I ran him for two miles and when I got back the Lieutenant said, "Good stuff, Anderson." There were about ten of the boys pretty badly hurt. One horse ran away and fell on the rider, who did not speak for four hours, but he will be better in a few days, I expect. I think when we are under fire there will be more killed by the horses than by the Boers, because we have not fired a shot off along side them yet.

Well, I must stop for the present as I have to go on duty again.

April 30th.—While I was on guard last night a Boer prisoner was shot. He was trying to climb the fence when one of the guards saw him. The guard commanded him three times to come down. But as he did not the guard brought him down with a bullet through his heart. He was on the next beat to me. I wish he had been on my beat. When they carried him off you could hear the other Boers singing and praying for two miles.

I was talking to one of the Scotchmen who was at the front. It is amusing to hear him tell of battles he has been in. One of the most amusing things he told me was of a dead man (his chum), shooting a Boer. I laughed at him but it is true enough. This Scotchman and his chum were in a cave with the other British. His chum was sitting down and had his rifle ready to fire at a Boer when he was himself shot through the head. About an hour after the Boers came up and the British had to retreat. When the Boers came to where this man was one of the men went to pull the rifle out of his hand. In so doing, the dead man's finger being on the trigger, it went off and shot the Boer through the heart. That is pretty good, isn't it, when our men can kill the Boers and they themselves dead.

Well, I will close, as time is short and I will have more news next time for I will then be at the front. Remember me to all the friends. Your true soldier,

EDWARD ANDERSON.

Mr. Robert Tate, accompanied by his sister Maggie, left last week for Weyburn, where they will locate on Mr. Tate's farm. We wish them success in their enterprise.

A gentleman from Qu'Appelle Station attempted to tame a fractious broncho here one day last week, but something went wrong with the works, and the broncho is not yet conquered. However, nothing succeeds like success, and he may be more lucky next time.

Messrs. Harry Lee and T. J. Wilson visited Indian Head last Saturday; the latter to attend a meeting of the officers of the Central Assinibola Teachers' Association. The next convention will be held in Grenfell, on Sept. 27th and 28th, when a good programme will be given. It is to be hoped that all the teachers will be present and will help to make the convention a grand success.

Mr. Geo. Root and his son Wesley have recently returned from spying out the land in the Weyburn district.

The readers of the PROGRESS extend to Mr. E. E. Law, sincere congratulations on the occasion of his marriage while east on the press excursion. May he and his bride spend many happy years.

Miss E. Goodwin visited friends at Daxin on Saturday and Sunday last.

The annual picnic of the Edgeley district will be held on July 5th on the same picnic ground. A grand time is expected. Watch for a glaring announcement and full particulars next week.

The closing public school examination will be held on June 29th, to which all are invited.

One of those social events which make the hearts of young people thump and palpitate took place last Saturday in Qu'Appelle Station, at the residence of Mrs. Brydon, when her daughter Clara was united in the holy bonds of matrimony, to Mr. S. G. Howett, of Edgeley. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Matheson. There were many friends present, especially at the reception given after the ceremony. The presents were numerous and some were very useful as well as ornamental. We wish the young couple a long and blissful life.

Territorial Tips.

Mr. McCannel, who is related to the ill-fated McArthur family, went down to Moosomin Sunday and returned yesterday. Town and country turned out to the funeral and hundreds saw the five coffins laid side by side in one grave. Miss McArthur seems completely dazed. All theories of complicity on her part are scouted by the neighbors.

Mr. Z. M. Hamilton, now manager of the Macleod Gazette, will return to Regina in a few days to close an important contract with one of the young ladies of the town, who will cross his t's dot his i's and teach him the p's and q's of domestic arrangements. The secret has been well kept, but even secrets spoil if kept too long. Congratulations of the Standard are extended in advance, that others may prepare to offer theirs.—The Standard.

Conflicting reports are in circulation regarding Col. Herchmer. Some state that he left Cape Town on May 31st for England, having charge of sick and wounded. Others state that he recently left De Aar for the front.

The western press is exulting over the fact that measurements show that eastern girls flatter chested, flatter headed, lesser in lung capacity and bigger footed than those of the west. The west doesn't care so much about the rest but it receives the news about the feet with profound gratitude.—West.

Mr. J. W. Mitchell, Creamery Inspector for the Territories, who was in town on Monday, is just in receipt of a letter from Mr. J. A. Kinsella, formerly Creamery Inspector here, but now in New Zealand. By the letter it is learned that Mr. Kinsella has been promoted to the high position of Dairy Commissioner vice Mr. Ruddick, another Canadian, who is returning to Canada to take a position as assistant to Professor Robertson. Mr. Kinsella has had rapid promotion but more than he deserves. We congratulate Mr. Kinsella on his success in the antipodes.

Mr. E. Parker, late president of the Ladies' Aid society of St. Gill's church, was made the recipient of a presentation and an address by the ladies of the society. This very pleasant affair took place in the school room of the church yesterday afternoon, as Mrs. Parker is leaving on the 14th inst., to take up her residence near Fort Qu'Appelle. Miss McBean read a very eulogistic address after which Mrs. Parker was presented with a handsome gold brooch. Miss Dryden has been appointed president of the society in the place of Mrs. Parker.—Winnipeg Telegram.

AT DIAMOND HILL

BRITISH CAPTURE THE POSITION UNDER A HEAVY FIRE.

Hamilton Slightly Wounded—Buller and Methuen Will Unite Forces—Raden-Powell Promoted.

London, June 17.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

Pretoria, June 16.—As I telegraphed yesterday from one of our outposts, fifteen miles east of Pretoria, the Boers evacuated their positions during the night of June 12. They had paid so much attention to strengthening their flanks that their centre was weakly held, and as soon as this became evident on June 12, I directed Ian Hamilton to attack. He moved against Diamond Hill, with the Sussex, Derbyshires and City Imperial volunteers, supported on the left by the guards brigade under Sir John Buller. It was a grand, seeing the way our men advanced over the difficult ground and under a heavy fire.

"The casualties, I am thankful to say, were less than 100, a very small number considering the natural strength of the position, which had to be carried. Our seizure of Diamond Hill caused the Boers to feel they were practically surrounded and this resulted in their hasty retirement. They were being followed yesterday by some of our mounted corps.

"Hamilton spoke in the high terms of the troops engaged. Hamilton received a contusion from a shrapnel bullet in the shoulder but is not, as might be said, unable to perform his duties."

The rest of Lord Roberts' dispatch deals with the casualties and Gen. Buller's movement in western Transvaal, where he with 800 men is systematically re-establishing order and collecting arms and supplies. About 600 Boers have surrendered and Raden-Powell captured 230 prisoners. According to Raden-Powell's report the Boers will readily discuss terms of surrender and they all appreciate the work of pacification performed by his troops.

London, June 16.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, in a dispatch dated yesterday, says:

I understand that Gen. De Wet in addition to the Derbyshire battalion captured two companies of the city volunteers and two companies of Yeomanry. Two men only escaped to tell the tale. London, June 16.—Lord Roberts' dispatches leave affairs east of Pretoria with the Boers withdrawn to new positions on Tuesday. News of fresh fighting is expected by the war office, but none came last night. Gen. Buller's patrol had a skirmish with the Boers' vanguard again on Wednesday. Some wonder is expressed here as to what he is doing with three divisions. It is assumed by some that Gen. Buller will move into the Orange River colony and co-operate with Methuen and Gen. Ruddle in bagging President Steyn and his seven or eight thousand followers. Part of Christian Botha's force has halted at Paardekop, 18 miles north-west of Volksrust. Boer parties are still near Volksrust, and occasionally upon the British pickets.

DUNSMUIR'S CABINET.

The Premier Will Have a Strong Following in the New House.

Victoria, B.C., June 16.—The new premier and two of the ministers of his cabinet were sworn in this afternoon. It is unlikely that the remaining members of the ministry will be elected until Monday or Tuesday. As the cabinet now stands it is: James Dunsmuir, premier and president of council; J. D. M. Eberts, attorney-general; J. H. Turner, minister of finance.

It is understood on good authority that A. C. Wells, Northeast Kootenay, and A. W. Smith, Lillooet, have also been invited to take portfolios in Dunsmuir's cabinet. A third portfolio is also given on the mainland, but as yet the remaining minister is to be selected. Garden, of Vancouver, may be taken in.

The general consensus of opinion here is that the premier will have a strong working majority in the new house. Politicians too, concede that Martin is in resigning when he did with the recommendation that Dunsmuir be called, made a good move, at least in as far as the protection of the position of the lieutenant governor is concerned, for it is now unlikely that any step will be taken towards securing the dismissal of Mr. McInnes.

Large Number of Suicides.

London, June 16.—A writer in the Express charges a large number of suicides to the influence of the war directly and to the making and Pretoria rejoicings indirectly. SIXTY cases have been reported to the police in thirteen days, a larger number than for any entire month in the last ten years.

British Losses in West Africa.

Cape Coast-Cadix, Gold Coast, June 16.—Capt. Ellis, with the West African frontier troops, while advancing from Fumea to Kwisa, lost one man killed and a corporal and six men wounded.

PRISONERS IN PEKIN.

The Members of Legations Are Virtually Prisoners of War.

London, June 17.—This is the situation in China as it appears to the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express, cabling last evening: "It is really a state of total war. The members of the legations in Peking are virtually prisoners and the Chinese troops are only restrained from attacking them by fear of the legation guards."

"Meanwhile the ministers are altogether unable to communicate with the officers commanding the relief columns, which is making an enforced and isolated halt between Tien Tsun and Peking. The walls of the capital are guarded by 100,000 Imperial troops. The gates are heavily defended with modern guns. Gen. Tang, acting under orders from the emperor's dowager, says that no more foreign troops shall enter the sacred city."

"On Monday the ministers sent a demand to the tsung li yamen that the gates be opened, declaring that otherwise the foreign troops would enter forcibly. To this no reply was given. A second message went unanswered, or had not been answered when the latest news left Peking. Sir Claude Macdonald's latest message says that the legations are capable of sustaining an effective defence unless attacked in force."

Russia, this correspondent asserts, notwithstanding assurances to the contrary, sides with China. "The streets of Peking," continues the correspondent of the Daily Express, "are reported to be swarming with anti-foreign mobs, clamouring for the destruction of the legations and the death of the foreign ministers."

Tien Tsun, June 16.—The mixed forces it is reported will attempt to seize the Taku forts tonight. Gen. Nich is moving 2,500 troops from Lu Tai to Chun-Li-Cheng. Gen. Tong's Shanghai troops are moving to Peking.

Paris, June 16.—At a cabinet council today the minister of foreign affairs, M. Delcasse, announced that the telegraph line to Peking has again been cut. The latest dispatch from the French minister there, he added, was dated the evening of June 12, and said the Chinese government had informed him it would not oppose the foreign detachments entering Peking.

Brussels, June 15.—Confirmation has been received of the report of the massacre of two Italian and one Swiss engineer employed on the Belgian railway in north China. The sister of the Swiss engineer was also killed and two others are missing. The rest of the French and Belgian engineers reached Peking and Tien Tsun in safety.

Yokohama, June 16.—The opposition press is impatient over the inactivity of the government. The emperor has summoned Marquis Ito to the situation in China.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Ottawa, June 16.—The first business of the house yesterday was the motion of Mr. Monk for a committee to investigate the charges he has made in connection with the emergency food supplied to the Canadian soldiers in South Africa by the militia department. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that the motion of Mr. Monk was not one of privilege. On the order paper it would be seen that the motion was put down for Friday, and therefore the government did not expect it would come up today. That being the case, he would move that the debate be adjourned, and he made the first order of tomorrow.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier introduced a bill to restrict the Chinese immigration. He said that British Columbia had grievances from both classes, and it was the intention of the government to issue a royal commission to investigate the Japanese and Chinese immigration, and lay the whole matter before the imperial authorities, so that the matter could be properly dealt with. The question was an imperial one. He was prepared to deal with the Chinese question, but he recognized that the agitation in British Columbia included the Japanese as well, and should be dealt with. He was not prepared now to put the Japanese on the same footing as the Chinese, thereby probably involving Great Britain in a war in the east. In respect to the Chinese, the bill would raise the poll tax from $50 per head to $100 per head.

Col. Prior did not agree with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but on the contrary there would be general regret in the province that the Natal act was not adopted.

Mr. Clarke Wallace on the other hand agreed with the premier that the present was not the time to do anything that would interfere with the Imperial interests in the east.

OBJECT TO THE LICENSE.

Druggists Do Not Like Certain Provisions of the New Liquor Act.

Winnipeg, June 16.—A delegation of druggists today waited upon the law amendments committee to protest against the license of $50, claiming that it was not $50 worth of liquor sold as medicine in the whole city during the year. No reputable druggist cared for the responsibility of being made a dispenser of whiskey. The committee promised to consider the matter.

BOTHA RETREATS

AFTER SECOND DAY'S FIGHTING WITH LORD ROBERTS' FORCES.

All British Commands Now Working Together—Lairg's Nek Tunnel Blown in—Brave Dorsets.

London, June 15.—The war office has made public a dispatch from Gen. Buller, accepting the congratulations of the secretary of state for war, Lord Lansdowne, in which he says:

"The Dorsets, who have been unlucky, had a chance at Lairg's Nek and saved themselves to be as good as any other."

About 150 yards at each end of Lairg's Nek the ends of the tunnel are blown in and it will require several days to move the debris. The line, otherwise, is unimpaired and open to the reversing stations and also to Sand-spruit."

London, June 15.—That Commandant General Louis Botha should have been able to stand for two days against Lord Roberts, and then to retreat without losing any guns, or having any of his men captured, is taken to mean that he has a force which the British must still reckon as formidable when acting defensively. The pacification of the whole Transvaal, especially the wide spaces far from the railways, is looked upon as a business requiring months rather than weeks. Meanwhile everything goes well for the British arms.

The Lorenzo Marques correspondent of the Times, telegraphing yesterday, says: "Among the Boer agents here there is talk of negotiations being reopened with a view of securing peace. The nature of the negotiations is not made public."

Mr. Wolmarans, a cousin of the member of the Transvaal executive of the same name, has arrived here. He declares that he intends to take no further part in the fighting.

The British prisoners at Noorddacht are suffering terribly from cold, and arrangements are being made to provide them with shelter. Their rations are identical with the scanty fare served out to the burghers.

London, June 15.—Lord Roberts reports that Methuen advanced to Horingspruit yesterday and found all quiet. Kronstadt is strongly held. Methuen returned yesterday to Rhensdorp river, where the railway is being repaired.

We were engaged all yesterday with Botha's army. The enemy fought with considerable determination and held our cavalry on both flanks; but Ian Hamilton, assisted by the Guards brigade of Pol-Carew's division, pushing forward, took the hill in his front, which, with a heavy artillery fire, forced them to retreat to the eastward.

In another report Lord Roberts says: The enemy evacuated their strong position during the night and have retired to the eastward. Buller's force and mine have afforded each other mutual assistance. Our occupation of Pretoria caused numbers of Boers to withdraw from Laings' Nek, and Buller's advance to Volksrust made them feel their rear would shortly be endangered.

General Buller reports to the war office from Laing's Nek dated yesterday that Gen. Buller yesterday received the formal submission of the town and district of Walkersburg, which the enemy is believed to have completely evacuated.

JAMES DUNSMUIR PREMIER.

Martin Has Designed and Will Be Succeeded by the Millionaire Mineowner.

Victoria, June 15.—Mr. Jos. Martin has resigned and the new premier of British Columbia has been chosen. He is James Dunsmuir, and tomorrow afternoon he will be sworn in as premier. Dunsmuir was recommended by Mr. Martin when he resigned, and was called by the lieutenant governor this afternoon.

The career of Mr. Dunsmuir will be formed strictly on non-partisan lines. In the recent campaign he was not one of the big guns of the opposition. He is a son of the late Robert Dunsmuir, 48 years of age. He is half owner of the extensive mines at Comox, Wellington, and Alexandria, on the island and half owner of the E. & N. Ry. The new premier is also the largest employer of labor in the province, and his pay roll monthly, exclusive of steamers, of which he has a number, amounts to $130,000. He was first elected to the British Columbia legislature for Comox in 1898; and at the recent election, was returned for South Nanaimo.

Hudson's Bay Company Dividend.

London, June 15.—The directors of the Hudson's Bay company have declared a dividend for the past year of 15 shillings per share, and a bonus of 10 shillings per share, equal to 2½ per cent on the capital stock of the company, as against 7.24 per cent for the previous year. In addition to this, the directors of the company have, out of the year's profit, set aside £10,000 for the employees' benefit fund, have added £10,000 to the insurance reserve fund, and have carried forward to the credit of profit and loss account £52,000, or £10,000 more than the year before.

AN ENGAGEMENT IN CHINA.

A Battle Between Forces of Combined Powers and Mohammedan Troops.

London, June 15.—The Times publishes the following dispatch from Tien Tsun, via Shanghai, June 14: "A serious engagement has occurred between the international column and the Mohammedan troops of Gen. Tung Fu Sing near Peking."

"Mr. Byron, Fremantle, British consul at Shanghai, who is now in London, says that these Mohammedan troops are armed with machine guns and repeating rifles."

London, June 15.—Observers at Shanghai and Tien Tsun think there is a great deal more trouble ahead for the concert of the powers than the mere reaching of Peking with 2,044 men. Serious disturbances are taking place at Su-Na Fu and Meng Tse, as well as at other points a considerable distance from the capital. The whole Chinese empire seems to be in a ferment.

The intentions of the emperor's dowager are still equivocal, with a balance of testimony on the side of a determination to expell the appropriators of a part of her country, or to lose her dynasty in the attempt. It is related of her that on the Monday following the murder of the chancellor of the Japanese legation she was brought to a sense of danger and went personally to the Yang Tung gate of Peking, where she advised the rioters to disperse. But she took no steps to apply force and the appearance of things is more threatening than before.

London, June 15.—In the house of commons assembled this afternoon. Nothing of interest occurred until the crisis in China was reached. The parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, Wm. St. John Broderick, made a statement in regard to the position of affairs in the Chinese empire. "Her Majesty's minister at Peking," said he, "has been in constant communication with the Chinese government since the attack by the Boers on the peaceable converts and the destruction of three villages about 90 miles from Peking on May 12."

GAS EXPLOSION AT CANMORE

Eight Miners Killed—One of the Victims Opened His Safety Lamp.

Canmore, Alberta, June 15.—This place was thrown into great excitement shortly after noon yesterday, when the news circulated of a gas explosion at the coal mines.

Owing to the nature of the explosion, it was impossible to ascertain definite particulars as to how many men were entombed, or how much of the mine the explosion had effected. All the fans were set to work with the utmost speed, and after several hours of intense suspense and arduous work the mine was cleared of smoke sufficient to allow of the search party entering. It was then ascertained that the explosion had confined itself to only one section, where eight men had been working. All were found at their several posts, "cold in death," which had been instantaneous.

The work of bringing the bodies to the surface was at once begun and the scene at the top of the pit when the anxious mothers and wives saw their dear ones brought out for the last time was one never to be forgotten and cannot be described. Several men who had been working in the vicinity of the explosion were badly shaken up, cut and bruised considerably, but none seriously. The names of the killed are: Peter Cashfield, Spring Hill, N.S.; Prosper Dayle, Amund, Regard, Tony Bolino, Tony Bolino, Jr., Charles Menapace, Peter Aimeonito, F. Bernette, Canmore, Deyo, Regarde, and Bolino leave widows and large families.

An inquest and investigation was held and the evidence submitted showed that the cause was due to the gross negligence and violation of the laws and rules regarding safety lamps, as two of the safety lamps were found to have been unlocked and opened.

ANGELIC SYNOD.

Annual Gathering of Bishops of Rupert's Land—Archbishop's Address.

Winnipeg, June 15.—His Grace the Archbishop of Rupert's Land delivered his annual charge to the assembled clergy and delegates of the synod of the diocese of Rupert's Land, in Holy Trinity church, last evening. The lot of the venerable archbishop was a lengthy one, going into many details of the work in the diocese. In opening reference was made to the prosperity that prevailed last year and in which the diocese shared. The harvest gave satisfactory returns; Winnipeg and the province generally made good progress. Regret was expressed at the war in which the empire was engaged, and the sorrow which it has caused in many homes, but it was pointed out that the war was for the sake of righteousness, and not for mere glory and aggrandizement.

London, June 15.—The Daily Express has the following dispatch from Prah Su, dated yesterday: "There has been another fight on the lines of communication of the Kamasie relief expedition. No details have been officially supplied. There are 10,000 Ashantis surrounding Kamasie, and 3,000 surrounding Kamasie, and 3,000 surrounding the relief force."

METHODISTS AND THE PRESS.

Conference Resolutions on Political Discussions and Prize Fights.

Brandon, June 13.—The general session of the Methodist conference opened yesterday at 9.30. Bro. Jackson and Tetter leading in prayer. A resolution was introduced asking for a pronouncement on the better enforcement of the rules of the church, such to be incorporated in the pastoral address.

A resolution expressing satisfaction with the new prohibition bill of the government was introduced and adopted by a standing vote.

The conference expressed itself in hearty accord with the policy outlined by the principal.

On motion it was decided to hold the next conference in Wesley college, Winnipeg.

Dr. Maclean was re-elected president and R. E. Spence secretary.

CAPE COLONY POLITICS.

Premier Schreiner Is Forming a New Loyal Cabinet.

Cape Town, June 13.—Premier Schreiner is engaged in reforming the cabinet, owing to the resignation of Messrs. J. Merriman, treasurer; J. W. Sauer, commissioner of public works, and Dr. Te. Water, minister without a portfolio. At the recent banquet, the premier's policy was generally condemned. The chief point of difference relates to the treatment of rebels. The bond, led by Messrs. Holmeyer and Te. Water, desire a general amnesty. Mr. Schreiner urged a scheme, recommended by the Imperial government, under which a special tribunal will try the rebels. The convicted leaders will be imprisoned and perpetually disfranchised, and the rank and file will be disfranchised for a period.

It is understood Mr. Schreiner's policy will be supported by the entire loyalist party, which is endorsed by the loyal public opinion of South Africa.

CONFESSES HIS CRIME.

Morrison, the Moosomin Murderer, Gives a Full Statement to a Clergyman.

Moosomin, June 13.—Morrison, the murderer, has made a confession to Rev. Mr. Scott, Presbyterian minister at Fleming. In substance the said confession was that he was going to die, that he did the deed and was sorry for it. When asked if he had any accomplice he replied: "No. I did it and no one else." He asked how many of his victims were dead, and when the reply was given he wept bitterly.

The corner's inquest occupied nearly all day, but no new evidence was brought out other than what was wired and the confession. The jury were out for only a short time, when they found that living the McArthur family over whom the inquest was held came to their death as a result of injuries inflicted by an axe at the hands of John Morrison, whom they found guilty of wilful murder.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Ottawa, June 13.—In the house of commons yesterday the emergency ration matter was again brought up by the opposition members and the minister of militia replied to Messrs. Monk and Clarke Wallace. As neither of these gentlemen would make any specific charges the matter was dropped. Mr. Davin on the motion to go into committee brought up an amendment dealing with a license to cut timber in Manitoba given to Mr. Theo. A. Burrows. The amendment brought out considerable history and was finally lost, 72-35.

The house made fair progress in committee of supply, adjourning at 12.45. The western editors were visitors in the gallery in the afternoon and evening and were warmly received.

Drowning Accidents.

Callander, Ont., June 12.—John Gagnon, a lumberman was drowned in lake Nipissing last evening. Gagnon hailed from Bonfield, Ont.

St. Catharines, June 13.—John V. Dorham, a prominent fruit grower has received news of the drowning of his son at Derby, Pa.

Digby, N.S., June 13.—Three fatalities to fishermen are reported here today, two of them leave large families.

Sundridge, Ont., June 13.—William Lang, Robert Jones and James Lang were crossing Stony Lake in a boat yesterday when the water being very rough, the boat capsized. William Lang and Robert Jones were drowned. James Lang, being caught in a rope attached to the boat, was rescued. The bodies have not yet been recovered.

Future Government of South Africa.

London, June 12.—It is learned by the Associated Press that the government has at last decided upon a plan for the civil settlement of South Africa. The details are kept most secret, but it can safely be said that the Orange River colony and the Transvaal will become crown colonies, the latter probably being named the Transvaal colony. Sir Alfred Milner, it is declared, is to be high commissioner of South Africa in spite of the opposition that has occurred.

Give All Around You.

Give greets you in your cradle and in your coffin," remarked a dealer in the article, "I don't suppose a youth of the people stop to think how seriously give serves them. It's in their hats and shoes, their carpets and furniture, their pencils, papers, postery, confectionery and medicine, on their walls, in the stiffening of their apparel and practically in or on some dozen or more articles with which they have daily dealings. Sixty million pounds of it are used a year, the cheapest at 9 cents and the dearest, which is used in pharmacy and the confectionery trade, about 90 cents.

DYSPEPSIA'S VICTIMS.

THE CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE AND HOW TO OVERCOME IT.

It frequently produces Headache, Heartburn, Dizziness and other distressing symptoms—A Victim Tells of Her Release.

From the Telegraph, Quebec.

The primary cause of indigestion or dyspepsia is lack of vitality, the absence of nerve force; the loss of the life-sustaining elements in the blood. No organ can properly perform its functions when the source of nutriment fails.

A practical illustration of the symptoms and torture of dyspepsia is furnished by the case of Mr. A. Labonte, who lives in the village of Stadacona, Que.

When interviewed by a reporter of the Quebec Telegraph, Mrs. Labonte looked the picture of vigorous health, showing no traces of the malady that had made her life for the time miserable. Speaking of her illness, Mrs. Labonte said: "For about two years I suffered severely. My digestive organs were impaired, and the food I ate did not assimilate, and left me with a feeling of flatulency, pain and acidity of the stomach, and frequently heartburn. This condition of affairs soon told on my system in other ways, with the result that I had frequent headaches, dizziness, and at times a dimness of vision with spots apparently dancing before my eyes. I became so much run down that it was with difficulty I could do my household work, and at all times I felt weak, depressed, and nervous."

While I was at my worst, one of my friends, seeing that the doctor was not helping me, urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My husband then got me half a dozen boxes, and I began taking them. After I had used two boxes I began to enjoy my meals and the various symptoms of my trouble began to disappear. I continued the pills until I had used the half dozen boxes, when I again felt perfectly well. My stomach was as healthy as ever it had been. I could sleep well and my head was clear and free from the dizzying spots which had long been making me miserable. It is more than a year since I stopped taking the pills, and health has continued better than it was for years before."

Mrs. Labonte added that she will always feel grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the misery they have released her from, and she always advises friends who are ailing to use them.

EMPRESS DOWAGER FLED.

Communicated in Cut Between Peking and Tien Tsin—Missionaries Marched.

London, June 12.—A special dispatch from Tien Tsin says it is reported the dowager empress has fled to the Russian legation at Peking.

A special dispatch to the Associated Press from Peking, under date of June 9, says: "The situation is growing steadily more alarming. The missionary compounds were all abandoned yesterday evening. Forty American and English missionaries are gathered at the American Methodist mission, surrounded by 300 native pupils, who it was impossible to send to their homes. They are waiting with a few revolvers and guarded by ten American marines for reinforcements to take them to the coast."

Missionaries who returned from the country to the east, say the populace are asserting that they must have a new emperor.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Dr. Stewart, President—E. L. Taylor Introduces Prohibition.

Brandon, June 12.—At the Methodist conference on Friday Rev. Dr. Stewart was elected to reside by a large majority. Rev. H. Wigle, B.A., of Zion church, on the second ballot was elected secretary.

At the afternoon session the report of the committee on nominations was received. Memorials from the various districts were read and referred to committee.

Mr. E. L. Taylor, of Winnipeg, was present and gave an address on the interpretation of the proposed prohibition bill of the Macdonald ministry.

B. C. MYSTERY CLEARED.

Body of E. Clayton, the Missing Bicyclist, Found in the Yukon River.

Vancouver, June 12.—The mystery regarding the sudden disappearance of E. Clayton, of Seattle, and Olsen and Rolfe, his two companions, who disappeared last fall on the Yukon river, has at last been cleared up. Clayton was brutally murdered, and there does not seem to be any doubt that his two companions shared the same fate. The story of the finding of Clayton's body was brought here by the steamer Cutch, which arrived from Skagway yesterday.

Canadian Flyer.

Montreal, June 12.—The C. P. R. Imperial Limited service to the Pacific coast was inaugurated for the summer months under favorable auspices this morning. The famous transcontinental flyer was made up on almost the same model as the trains that ran westward and eastward last year, taking 100 hours for the entire journey from Montreal to the coast. The train carried on her journey westward upwards of 200 passengers, 300 bags and baskets of mail matter, and 275 pieces of baggage. Upwards of 120 of the mail bags were intended for the C. P. R. steamer Empress of Japan, which sails for Hong Kong and Yokohama from Vancouver on Sunday.

An Insurgent Leader Captured.

Washington, June 12.—General McArthur has cabled the following report of the capture of Gen. Pilar.

"Manila, June 9.—Native police captured the insurgent general, Pio Del Pilar this morning. He was found lurking in the neighborhood of San Pedro Macat (Signed) Macarthur."

Gen. Schwan's estimate of the importance of this news is contained in this statement: "The capture of Gen. Pio Del Pilar is a most important one. Pilar was regarded as one of the most active and uncompromising of the rebel chieftains. That his capture has been effected by the native police of Manila, a body numbering some 400, evidences at once the loyalty of these men to the American cause, so often impugned by both Americans and Filipinos."

Two Men Drowned at Indian Head.

Indian Head, Assa., June 12.—People going to church yesterday morning were startled by the intelligence of a double drowning which took place at the Sunbeam Dam, a short distance south of the town. It appears that four young men were standing on a floating tank when it capsized, precipitating them all into the water. Two of the men reached shore, but Charles G. Campbell, formerly of South Middleton, Ont., and John Moran, hailing from Quebec, were drowned. The bodies were grasped for and recovered by Mr. G. M. Gordon, four hours after the occurrence.

A Fatal London Fire.

London, Ont., June 12.—A fatal fire occurred yesterday in the store and dwelling of Jas. Ward, a liquor dealer, at the corner of Mallard and Stinson streets. Robert Ward, a little fellow of 3, was smothered by the smoke and several members of the family were more or less injured by the fire jumping from the windows.

Growing Rapidly.

Messrs. Wm. Johnston and G. A. Matyuk took a trip over the country in the vicinity of Milestone and west and south. On the opening of spring not a house had been erected at Milestone. Now twenty-five can be counted from the station platform. All government land towards Weyburn has been located. The land on the Wascana creek directly south is also being rapidly homesteaded or bought up, and there is pretty certain to be a village spring up there before long, and a railroad pass through there.
